"A good heritage, from upright ancestry, is more to be desired than all the titles, honors and wealth that the world can bestow upon you."—Luther Burbank.

Honor to the memory of our fathers! May the turf lie gently on their sacred graves: But let us not in words only, but in deeds also, testify our own reverence for their names. Let us imitate what in them was lofty, pure and good. Let us from them learn to bear hardship and privation. Let us, who now reap in strength, what they sowed in weakness. study to enhance the inheritance we have received.

July 4, 1845.

CHARLES SUMNER.

PREFACE

The main purpose of this book is to record the genealogical history of WILLIAM McCANDLISH, of County Ayr, Scotland, and his descendants, and also, the genealogical history of WILLIAM BLACK, of Ballymoncy, County Antrim, Ireland, and his descendants.

The history of the two families is written in one book, because of the inter-marrying of the family of William and Agnes (Smith) McCandlish, with the family of William and Mary (Wiley) Black. These marriages occurring in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania. Anthony McCandlish married Nancy Black. Robert McCandlish married Mary Black. Mary Ann McCandlish married Samuel Black.

The data for this history has been gathered from family Bibles, from the author's own work in public libraries in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and in the Congressional Library, in Washington D. C., court records, from inscriptions on monuments in cemeteries, and by word of mouth, from those descendants acquainted with the facts regarding their own branch of the family.

The lack of complete records in the latter part of the 18th Century is regrettable, but not surprising. The McCandlishes came to America at the beginning of the War of the Revolution, and the Blacks, shortly after the close of this war. There must have been little time or opportunity in those strenuous days, for careful records of current events or genealogical history. Nor was accuracy always observed in the records that were kept. That there will be some omissions and imperfections in this history, is inevitable, but we venture to give the facts as we know them, trusting that they may serve some useful purpose in every family among us, and be an incentive to future generations, to keep a full and accurate record of such incidents, events and dates, as shall aid any future family historian.

We offer no apology for treating some families more fully than others, equally worthy of attention. This is due to the material furnished us by some member of that branch, or to our own personal knowledge, while in other cases, the lack of these compelled us to be brief.

We gratefully acknowledge the invaluable assistance given us by relatives, without whose help these records might not have been published and preserved in permanent form, for future generations. We especially wish to thank that gallant, young-old lady—Mrs. Emma Chatfield, of Wellston, Ohio, and Mrs. Nettie Kagay Gravett, of Palo Alto, California.

An index of names, including those persons who married into the McCandlish or Black families, or are descendants of a McCandlish or a Black, is appended.

In closing this labor of filial love and devotion, which has involved much research work of a pleasant nature, and listening to the stories of those aged ones, who are hastening to join those whose memory we seek to perpetuate, we lay down the pleasant task, in hope that in some degree we have served faithfully, and to the best of our ability, the cause in which we are greatly interested.

Worthington, Ohio.

ELIZABETH BLACK.

THE McCANDLISHES

The McCandlishes are Scotch. The prefix "Mc" means "son of," and "can" means "clear and fair." By nature, they are firm in their convictions, though not contentious, and are dignified, though not aloof. They were staunch Presbyterians, as a great many of their descendants are today. They are honest, industrious, and thrifty; also, a kindly and peace-loving people.

They gave to their children a religious fervor, which lasts through the generations of their descendants. They were among the hardy pioneers of Pennsylvania. May the memory of such forbears live in the minds of their descendants, and inspire them with a desire to emulate their virtues.

(1) WILLIAM McCANDLISH and his descendants are numbered in this history along the left hand margin, according to their place of mention, and a number following the name is for identification.

William McCandlish married Agnes Smith. They lived in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania, some time between 1790 and 1800. Tradition relates that they came to the United States from Wigtown, County Ayr, Scotland. Probably both were born there, and were married there, but owing to a "gap in the records," the marriage date can not be found. He was a carpenter, by trade. Records show that he bought lots No. 137, April 11th, 1793, and No. 65, January 31st, 1797 in Lewistown, Mifflin County, Pennsylvania. The descendants received money from the estates of the brothers of Agnes Smith, at Wigtown, Scotland.

William McCandlish and Agnes Smith had six children:

2. Jane McCandlish.
3. Robert McCandlish.
4. Margaret McCandlish.
5. Anthony McCandlish.
6. William McCandlish.
7. Mary Ann McCandlish.

JANE McCANDLISH (2)

Married Alexander Reed, of Reedsville, Mifflin County, Pennsylvania. Both are buried in the Presbyterian cemetery, near Reedsville, on the Reedsville-Milroy road. No dates are given for birth or death of Jane McCandlish Reed. Her husband, Alexander Reed, born 1765, died 1815 and was a brother of William Reed. (See No. 3 Black family history).

ROBERT McCANDLISH (3)

Born 1776, died October 9th, 1851. He was a farmer, and bought land, 1837, in Rushcreek Township, Fairfield County, later owned by David Yost.

He married Mary Black (5). (See Black family history), born 1786, near Ballymoney, County Antrim, Ireland, daughter of William and Mary Wiley Black. They were married in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania. and came to Ohio on horseback. They were members of the Bethel Presbyterian church, and later, of the Rushville Presbyterian church.

Mary Black McCandlish died at her home near Rushville, Ohio, in 1856. Robert McCandlish also died there in 1851. Robert and Mary and seven of their eleven children are buried in the West Rushville cemetery, Fairfield County, Ohio.

WILLIAM McCANDLISH (7)

Born in 1812, near Rushville, Ohio, (or in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania), and died in 1868. William McCandlish married Catherine Shields, of Hocking County, Ohio. She died in 1903, and both are buried at West Rushville, Ohio. They lived near West Rushville, and later, at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, where he was Post-master. There are no living descendants. One infant son is buried near them, in West Rushville Cemetery.

JANE McCANDLISH (8)

Date of death and birth unknown. She is buried in Emerald Green cemetery, near Streator, Illinois. She never married.

GEORGE PATTON McCANDLISH (9)

Born near Rushville, Ohio, January 1st, 1816, died August 12th 1875, in LaSalle County, Illinois. On June 17th, 1847, he married Catherine Deenis, in Fairfield County, Ohio. Catherine Deenis, born 1826, died October 2nd, 1889, near Streator, Illinois and is buried in Emerald Green cemetery, near Streator, Illinois. She was a member of the United Brethren church.

In 1856, they removed from Fairfield County, Ohio, to Illinois, to make their home. They came by covered wagon, locating first, near Ottawa, in La Salle County, Illinois. Very soon they purchased a farm sixteen miles south of their first location, but in the same county, and near the town of Streator, Illinois.

They lived on this farm until the death of the husband and father, George Patton McCandlish. He was one of the volunteers from Illinois, who served his country during part of the Civil War. He was a member of the One Hundred and Fourth Regiment, Company F. When he was no longer able to fight, he was transferred to the hospital work, and continued this work until the close of the war—a corporal.

He died, August 12th, 1875, in La Salle county, Illinois.

CHILDREN:

18. Mary Margaret McCandlish.
19. Sarah Jane McCandlish.
20. Emily F. McCandlish. Born October, 1856, in La Salle County, Ill., and died April 9th, 1863, in La Salle county, Ill.

MARY MARGARET McCANDLISH (18)

Born on a farm, near Rushville, Ohio, May 1st, 1848. She removed with her parents, by prairie schooner, to Illinois, when she was eight years of age. Shortly came the Civil War, and the father enlisted, leaving the family to care for the farm. Mary Margaret, 13 years of age, the oldest of the three daughters, assumed many of the father's duties, and worked steadily in the fields. To obtain coal for the family, she would drive to the river bank, where the Streator House was located. Here, she would assist the landlady, while the landlord took the team down the hill for the coal. Upon his return, she resumed the role of driver, and traveled across the prairie to her home. To dispose of the crop, it was necessary for her to haul the corn and oats to Ottawa. These experiences continued during the four years of the war.

She was married to Epenetus Dixon, on February 3rd, 1870. He was born, February 11th, 1845, near Magnolia, Illinois. He was a member of the United Brethren Church, and a member of the Streator Club. He was a farmer, and followed that occupation for twenty years. In 1890, they moved to Streator, where the daughters still reside. He died at Los Angeles, California, January 8th, 1914.

Mary Margaret (McCandlish) Dixon, was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, having joined the church when twelve years of age, active member of the Red Cross during the World War. Died, March 23rd, 1923, at Streator, Illinois. Interred in the Philips cemetery.

The five children of Mary Margaret (McCandlish) and Epenetus Dixon, all were born at the farm home:

21. Charles George Dixon. Born, November 10th, 1871; died, November 10th, 1871.
22. Sarah Catharine Dixon. Born, November 10th, 1872; died, November 10th, 1874.

Anthony and Nancy McCandlish were married in 1803, and came to Waterford, Washington County, Ohio, in 1803. They began house-keeping in the forest primeval. Anthony followed the occupation of farming, and along with this, had charge of the ferry across the Muskingum River. Nancy McCandlish died in 1821, and Anthony died in 1823. Both are buried in the cemetery at Waterford, Ohio.

At the time of Anthony McCandlishes' death, his brother Robert McCandlish (3), and his brother-in-law, Samuel Black (2), (See Black Family History), went on horseback from Bremen, Ohio, to Waterford. They sold the farm implements, live stock, and most of the household goods of Anthony and Nancy McCandlish, and came back to Bremen, each bringing two children, and a few household articles on his horse, to the home of the children's grandfather, William Black (1), (See Black Family History), who resided three miles east of Bremen.

FRANKLIN JOY NISWONGER (384)

Born near Greenup, Illinois, July 28th, 1870. Died at his home near Winona, Kansas; December 30th, 1932, after an illness of more than five years duration. He was unable to walk the last two years of his life because of paralysis, and much of his time was spent in a wheeled chair. In these days spent in an invalid's chair the ability for writing seemed to come to him, which he never knew or thought he possessed. He wrote several very good poems. Had his training been along lines of literature or art, his work might have been more congenial than that of his chosen profession, farming. In his youth he was quite interested and active in the Sunday School of the Friends' Church, near his home. Some of his poems show his feeling in religious things. He lies beside his mother in the cemetery at Selkirk, Kansas, near where he made his first investments in land when he came with his family to Kansas, in March, 1914. He was married to Josephine Elizabeth Anderson, born August 11th, 1874. They were married at the home of her parents, near Stewardson, Illinois, September 5th, 1894.

NETTIE FLORENCE KAGAY (590)

Born at Bremen, Ohio, February 21st, 1861. She was educated in the public schools, the Fairfield Union Academy, and at Oxford College for Women at Oxford, Ohio.

She was married to John A. Gravett, son of John and Anna (Mallars) Gravett, of Lancaster, Ohio December 5th, 1888. They resided in Little Rock, Arkansas and in 1889 went to Denver, Colorado, where they lived until Mr. Gravett's death, September 5th, 1907.

Mr. Gravett graduated from Wooster University, Wooster, Ohio in 1878, and went to Colorado during the Silver Rush in 1879. He entered the employ of the Denver and Rio Grande R. R., became Traveling Auditor. He was sent to Salt Lake City, in charge of the office there when the Western D. and R. G. was opened. After five years service with this road he went to Little Rock, Arkansas, and was secretary for the Little Rock Oil and Compress Company. After his return to Colorado, he again entered the service of the D. and R. G. R. R., and continued in its service almost continually until his death at Salida, Colorado, where he is buried in Fairview Cemetery, which is in the shadow of The Angel of Shevano, one of the rare sights of the Rockies.

After her husband's death, Mrs. Gravett took library work. After a course in library training she was appointed librarian of the new Carnegie Public Library, then building in Salida. She opened and organized that library, and in 1910, Mrs. Gravett was appointed State Librarian of Colorado, and with her mother moved to Denver. She served the term as State Librarian, and when there was a change in the administration, she returned to Columbus, Ohio, as an assistant in the Ohio State Library, where she served six months. Then she made a trip to Europe to do research work, and get a knowledge of the great libraries and library conditions there. She left Columbus in July, 1913, and returned at the outbreak of the World War.

Fortunately, she was called back to take the position of Superintendent of the Traveling Library department of the Ohio State Library. Mrs.

Gravett served in this position five and one-half years, successfully through three administrations.

After the war, she became interested in placing libraries in the new hospitals for the disabled War Veterans, and resigned her position in Columbus. Was sent to California, by the American Library Association, to organize libraries at the U. S. Veterans Hospital at Palo Alto, California, and at the Marine Hospital in San Francisco, with headquarters at Palo Alto hospital. She became intensely interested in the work. For two years she divided her time between the two hospitals, and then was confined to the Palo Alto hospital. She continued in this work until March, 1927, when she was compelled to resign on account of a severe attack of arthritis.

Mrs. Gravett is living in retirement in Palo Alto, and greatly enjoys the advantages of that beautiful University town. She is a Presbyterian, a member of the D. A. R., and the Western Woman's Club in San Francisco.

MARY ANN McCANDLISH (6)

(See Black Family History No. 2).

McCandlishes of Buffalo township, Northumberland county (now Union county), Pennsylvania.

The first record of McCandlishes in Northumberland county, is in Pennsylvania Archives 5th Series, Volume I., page 376, "November 29th, 1771, Mr. Hamilton issued license to William McCandlish to trade with Indians."

This must have been William McCandlish, Junior, because John B. Linn in his Annals of Buffalo Valley, published 1877, says on page 62, "In 1774, William McCandlish Senior, and Samuel Martin came from North Britain (meaning Scotland), and settled on the Billmeyer place, afterward Gebharts, etc." "William McCandlish Senior lived at one time on the place owned and occupied in 1877 by John Leshar, in Buffalo township.

Page 181 Linn's Annals, a list of inhabitants of Buffalo township, April, 1780, includes William McCandlish Senior, and William McCandlish Junior.

"1739, June 3rd, William McCandlish in the parish of Whitehorn and Grizel Martin in this parish, proclaimed in order to marriage."

—From the Wigtown Parish Register, Scotland.

It has not been authentically proven that the William McCandlish who married Grizel Martin is the William Senior in Buffalo township, but from the names of his children we are led to believe it is.

William McCandlish Senior died 1783, and his will made September 11th, 1783; proved September 20th, 1783. Names children: Peter, John, (in Scotland), George, Grizel, Jennet; wife Mary; children, Alexander, Martin, William. Mary seems to be a second wife.

Alexander, Martin and William, minor children of William McCandlish Senior, deceased; Guardians Joseph Poge and Richard Sherer. William McCandlish, of Northumberland county, served in the Revolutionary War.

Pennsylvania Archives, Series 3, volume 23, page 351. "Rangers on the Frontiers 1778-1783.

David Buchanan Sergeant.

William McCandlish private."

Series 5, volume 4, page 371, Pennsylvania Archives, "William McCandlish, private, Northumberland county, received depreciation pay, 1783," for service in the Revolution.

In the will of William McCandlish, Senior, there is no mention of any land or money received for service in the Revolution.

Indications are that William McCandlish, Junior, was the Revolutionary soldier, and there are also indications that William McCandlish (1) who married Agnes Smith, owned land in Northumberland county. He may have been the William Junior spoken of, and he may have been the Revolutionary soldier. We are still continuing research along this line.

We find in a journal written by Rev. Beatty, a Presbyterian minister, while he held a pastorate in Northumberland county, "July 16th, 1777, I rode to the home of George McCandlish." Some years later, when preparing this journal for publication, he added, "George McCandlish lived where the town of Milton now stands." Milton is in Northumberland county, across the river from Buffalo township, Union county.

As late as 1884 there were traces of an old burial ground on one McCandlish property in Buffalo township.

THE BLACKS

The Blacks were originally of Scotland. The name Black may have originated from the garb or color of the hair, as black or very dark hair is one of the characteristics of the family.

During the 17th century, King James, of England, decided to try to make a loyal colony out of turbulent Ireland by transferring to Ireland a goodly number of the intensely loyal Scotch families. So without their consent, and amid great sorrow, this was done. History says: * "Strong men wept and kissed the rocks of their native heath, and the bagpipes played 'The March for the Dead,' as they filed down through the glens, leaving their native land forever."

The Blacks were among these families who were settled in the barren country in the north of Ireland, which by their labor and frugality they transformed into tidy farms.

Of course some unions with the Irish were inevitable, and the Blacks are Scotch - Irish—a heritage of which they are proud.

A study of famous people in the United States shows that no other race or combination of races has produced so many notable men and women.

They are optimistic and friendly by nature, and enjoy a good innocent joke. They also are honest and industrious, and are interested in church, being of the Protestant faith, and most of them Presbyterians and Methodists.

We have found no paupers nor beggars in either family of Blacks or McCandlishes, illustrating the text: "I have not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread."

The desire for religious freedom and for education, more than the desire for material prosperity, caused the Blacks to emigrate in 1790 to America, where they proved that "High thinking can go hand in hand with plain living."

They came to America on a slow-sailing vessel, and were eleven weeks on the ocean. The drinking water ran short, and each family was allotted a small portion. Mary Wiley Black said her family could have drunk up all of their share before breakfast, if she had permitted them to do so. In order to get water, they hung up sheets when it rained, then wrung them out into drinking vessels. When the ship sailed from Ireland, the two year old son, William Black, Junior, was so ill with whooping cough, that he could not be moved, so was left with two maiden aunts, Nancy and Jenny Wiley. He recovered, and came to America with his family forty-six years later.

William and Mary Wiley Black landed at Philadelphia, and pushed on to Union township, Mifflin county, Pa., near Reedsville, where they were members of the Presbyterian Church, then called the East Kishacoquillas Congregation, now the Reedsville Presbyterian Church.

* Constance Lindsay Skinner in "Pioneers of the Old Southwest."

WILLIAM BLACK (Never came to America)

Of County Antrim, Ireland; married Margaret Wiley. They lived near Ballymoney, and supposedly died and were buried there.

Their five children, four sons and one daughter emigrated to America, and made their homes here, and their descendants are scattered from the eastern to the western shores of the United States.

CHILDREN:

1. William Black.
2. Robert Black.
3. John Black.
4. Samuel Black.
5. Mary Black.

WILLIAM BLACK (1)

(William Black and his descendants are numbered according to their place of mention in History. He being No. 1).

Born at Balleymoney, county Antrim, Ireland, 1761; died at his farm home, east of Bremen, Ohio, February 14th, 1844. Married Mary Wiley, born 1760, died November 11th, 1856, daughter of Samuel and Catherine (Patton) Wiley, of Newtown Limavady, in the northern part of county Londonderry, Ireland.

William Black, a stone mason, and family, lived in Mifflin county, Pennsylvania, from the year they came to America, 1790, to 1811, when they came to Ohio, and settled in Fairfield county, (now Perry county, Jackson township, southwest quarter of section No. 19). Here they made their home until the death of William Black, in 1844. They were members of the Bethel Presbyterian Church, and both are buried in the cemetery nearby. Mary Wiley Black died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert McCandlish, in Rushcreek township, Fairfield county.

CHILDREN:

2. Samuel Black.
3. Jane Black.
4. Nancy Black.
5. Mary Black.
6. William Black.
7. Martha Black.
8. Elizabeth Black.
9. James Patton Black.

SAMUEL BLACK (2)

Born near Ballymoney, Ireland, 1783; died April 23rd, 1840. Married October 3rd, 1811, Mary Ann McCandlish (7) (McCandlish History), born 1783, died December 15th, 1843, daughter of William and Agnes (Smith) McCandlish, of Mifflin county, Pennsylvania. They came to Ohio in 1811, and lived with Samuel's parents, three miles east of Bremen, until they bought an adjoining eighty acres in Fairfield county. They were members of the Bethel Presbyterian Church, one mile south of their home.

CHILDREN:

10. Martha Black.
11. William Smith Black.
12. Nancy Black. Born March 25th, 1820; died February 3rd, 1840.

Samuel Black, his wife, Mary Ann, and their three children all sleep in the Bethel Cemetery.

Copy of Church Letter which Samuel and Mary Ann Black brought from Pennsylvania:

"That Samuel Black and Mary Ann, his wife, have resided in the bounds of East Kishacoquillas Congregation a number of years, supported their minister, were regularly married on the third day of October, 1811. That Samuel himself was admitted to the Lord's Table, and both leave us free from the imputation of anything scandalous or worthy of the censure of the church is certified this 10th day of October, 1811, with the advice of the Session."

By JAMES JOHNSTON,
Pastor of Congregation.

MARTHA BLACK (10)

Born near Bremen, Ohio, February, 1815; died at her farm home, three miles east of Bremen, July 5th, 1859. Married her cousin, Robert John Black (30).

WILLIAM BLACK (11)

Born three miles east of Bremen, 1817. Never married. Member of Bethel Presbyterian Church, and a highly respected farmer. He was strongly in favor of Temperance, and among his old letters are receipts for money contributed to this cause. He died at his farm home near the Jerusalem Reformed Church, 1899.

JANE BLACK (3)

Married William Reed, of Reedsville, Mifflin county, Pennsylvania. He was born 1757, and died 1817, buried in Old Stone Church Cemetery, one mile east of Reedsville, Pa. He was a farmer, and land was deeded to him by his father, James Reed, Sr., July 13th, 1797. About 1863, the widow of William Reed, Jane (Black) Reed (3), and her children removed to Medina county, Ohio, where they bought a farm about one-half mile east of Leroy, (then called Westfield), Ohio. They resided here until after the mother's death, in 1856. She is thought to be buried at Leroy, Ohio.

CHILDREN:

13. William Reed.
14. John Reed.
15. Jane Reed.
16. James Reed. Died unmarried.
17. Nancy Reed.
18. Mary Reed. Died unmarried.
19. Sarah Reed.

WILLIAM REED (13)

Born at Reedsville, Pennsylvania. Was educated in the public schools. He married Harriet Wells, a sister of Mr. Wells of the Wells, Fargo Express Company. She was born in Vermont ^{Wendell} or Massachusetts. Shedford Vt.

William Reed was accepted as a candidate for the ministry, in October, 1829; resolutions were adopted in January, 1833; final plans to enter the mission field were made at a called meeting, May 1st, 1833, in the Old Stone Presbyterian Church, near Reedsville. Later in May, an ordination service was held in this same church. His wife was a talented singer, and at this service she sang, "From Greenland's Icy Mount-
Daughter
Shiloh
wells.

He was a Presbyterian clergyman and later removed to N.Y.

ains." He was one of the first two missionaries sent by the Presbyterian Church of America to India.

"William Reed and John C. Lowrie sailed from Philadelphia in the ship Star, May 30th, 1833—detained at the Island Maderia, and arrived at Calcutta, October 15th. Mrs. Lowrie died there November 24th, of tuberculosis. The survivors were destined to Lodiana, one thousand miles northwest from Calcutta. As they could not proceed from Calcutta until the next June, they engaged in the study of the language while detained. Here Mr. Reed's health declined rapidly—he and his wife Harriet embarked for home, July 23rd, 1834, and he died at sea, August 12th. His wife arrived safe in this country."

—From a Presbyterian History of Missions.

William Reed and Harriet Wells were married in 1833, at Alleghanytown, Pennsylvania. They went on horseback to Philadelphia, where they took a sail boat to India, to become missionaries to the heathen. Their honeymoon was this trip.

William Reed was not so very strong physically, and soon developed tuberculosis in the new country. He and his wife started home, but he did not survive the trip, and was buried at sea in 1834. Their son, William Jr. was born at sea, but before or after his father's death, history does not tell us.

Harriet Wells Reed later married Dr. Edward Hale, a widower, with a son and daughter. In 1836 the Hale family emigrated west, and finally settled in St. Louis, Mo.

Harriet Wells Hale died in 1888, at the home of a son, Henry Hale, in Orange, N. J. Rev. Lowrie, who had accompanied her and her first husband to India, officiated at her funeral.

20. William Reed Jr.

Born 1834, lived with his mother's brother in Nashville, Tennessee, and became a secessionist and soldier. He was captured in a battle, and spent three years or more in Northern prisons, until all prisoners of war were freed. He survived his mother several years.

JOHN REED (14)

Married Abigail Kerr, of Reedsville, Pennsylvania. They moved to Marion county, Ohio, and lived on a farm, two miles southwest of Marion, on the Green Camp road. He was Sheriff of Marion county, in 1863. Sometime while the Civil War was in progress he visited his nephew, William Reed (20) son of the deceased missionary, who was held a prisoner of war near Columbus, most likely Camp Chase.

John and Abigail Reed had no children.

JANE REED (15)

Married William Alexander, of Mifflin county, Pennsylvania, near Reedsville. William Alexander was a full cousin to Josiah Alexander. (See Phoebe McCandlish (473) McCandlish History).

Four children were born to this union.

21. Reed Alexander, who lived at Red Oak, Illinois, in 1876.

22. Lucy Alexander. Died young, unmarried.

23. Minerva Alexander.

24. Jane Alexander, who married Otis Shaw, and lived in Medina, Ohio, in 1876.

Jane (Reed) Alexander (15) died young, and the four children named above lived part of the time at the home of their grandmother Reed near Medina county, Ohio.

Minerva Alexander (23) never married. She went to the western part of the United States after the death of her aunt, Mary Reed, about 1900, and spent her last days there.

SARAH REED (19)

Married B. D. Austin, a merchant at Leroy, Ohio. She died at the home of her son, Stephen, at Dixon, Illinois, in 1890. Seven sons and one daughter were born to B. D. and Sarah (Reed) Austin. Four of these sons died young, and unmarried.

CHILDREN:

25. Sadie Austin. Married. Nothing more known.

26. Dryden Austin. Died 1888. Married. Nothing more known.

27. Frank Austin. Died 1898. Married. Nothing more known.

28. Stephen Austin. Died 1916. Twice married.

STEPHEN AUSTIN (28)

Stephen Austin and one of his brothers were partners in merchandising business in Dixon, Illinois. Stephen Austin married, and his wife died, leaving one child. (Nothing more known). He married a second time, Bessie Ewalt. They had one son. Mrs. Austin lives at Dixon, Illinois.

SON:

29. Ewalt Reed Austin.

NANCY REED (17)

Married a man from Pennsylvania, but most of their lives were spent at their home near Leroy, Medina county, Ohio.

NANCY BLACK (4)

Married Anthony McCandlish (5). (See McCandlish History).

MARY BLACK (5)

Married Robert McCandlish (3). (See McCandlish History).

WILLIAM BLACK, JR. (6)

Born near Ballymoney, Ireland, in May of 1788; married Jane McCloy, about 1820. Jane McCloy was the only child of John and Jennie (Curry) McCloy, of Ballymoney, County Antrim, Ireland. She was born 1790, died March 9th, 1871. Her husband died July 27, 1866.

They decided to come to America to join William Black Junior's parents and family, who had come in 1790. At the time of their sailing, William Black Jr. was a baby two years of age, and so ill that the doctor said there was no chance of his recovery. His mother, feeling that she could not bear to see her baby buried at sea, left him with her maiden sisters, Jennie and Nancy Wiley, in Ireland. He recovered, and brought his Aunt Nancy Wiley with his family when they came to America. They sailed from Port Rush near the Giant's Causeway, on the north coast of Ireland, on Orange Day, July 12th, 1836, arriving at Liverpool the next morning. They came to America on "The Dunkin Gibb," a sailing vessel which was delayed six weeks at Liverpool, waiting for passengers enough to make a paying trip to America. They were on the water ninety days, and when they reached the mouth of the St. Lawrence river navigation was closed for the winter. They traveled by wagons to Buffalo, New York, passing around Niagara Falls near the location of Brock's monument. The trip was too much for Nancy Wiley, the aunt, and she passed away and was buried at Prescott, Canada.

The Black family spent the winter in Buffalo, and when Spring came, they resumed their journey by way of canal, to Lancaster, Ohio.

A Mr. Stemen, who lived near where the Fairview schoolhouse now stands, east of Bremen, brought them in his wagon from Lancaster, to the home of William Black (1), east of Bremen.

William and Jane (McCloy) Black spent their remaining days on this farm, which William Black (1) bought when he came from Pennsylvania, in 1811.

William Black (6) served an apprenticeship while in Ireland, at the weaver's trade, learning the method of manufacturing fine Irish linen. In the United States he followed the occupation of farming. He died July 27th, 1866. During the last year of his life, the Bible, the Presbyterian Hymnal, and the "Presbytyr" were his constant companions. His wife died March 9th, 1871. They were members of the Bethel Presbyterian Church (sometimes called "Old Bethel"). Both are buried in the cemetery of this church.

CHILDREN:

30. Robert John Black.
31. Mary Wiley Black.
32. James Wiley Black.
33. Samuel Curry Black.

ROBERT JOHN BLACK (30)

Born December 22nd, 1822, near Ballymoney, County Antrim, Ireland; died at his home, three miles east of Bremen, May 8th, 1913. Married twice. First wife, Martha Black. Second wife, Margaret McCandlish Alexander.

Robert John Black's education, which began in a private school (as there were no public schools in Ireland), at the age of four years, was continued by home study during his long life of ninety years. He had the student mind, and was ever alert to learn something new, and was often heard to remark, even in his last days: "I learned something new today."

Soon after coming to Fairfield county, Ohio, he entered the store of Gilgert McFadden, in Rushville, Ohio, as an apprentice. This store was on the stage line, between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. It was his duty to stay in the store both day and night, so that he might attend to the mail which often arrived in the middle of the night. Later he went to Circleville, Ohio, where he kept books, and taught schools nearby.

In 1837, he joined the Methodist Church at Rushville, Ohio. Later, he studied for the ministry, and was admitted to the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In this work he spent four years as an itinerant preacher in central and southern Ohio. Because of poor health he retired from the ministry, and went into the nursery business on his farm near Bremen, Ohio, making a special study of fruit trees. Along with the nursery business he wrote articles for the leading agricultural papers of our country, such as: "Rural New Yorker", "Prairie Farmer", "Country Gentleman", and "National Stockman and Farmer." He was the Horticultural Editor of the latter paper for about thirty years previous and until his death. We quote below from an article by E. S. Bayard, editor of "National Stockman and Farmer", in their issue of May 15th, 1913:

"On Thursday, May 8th, Robert J. Black laid down his work in this world. We have no particulars, but his final illness much have been short, for only a few days have elapsed since we received a letter from him, urging the planting of fruit trees, even though late in season, provided they could have proper subsequent care. The last two articles he wrote for us are given this week. In one of them, "The Sun Dial"—he speaks of 'The Enduring Light of the Better Land'—something that we do not remember that he ever mentioned before, except in private correspondence. Perhaps he felt the presence of the Shadow even then.

In all our experience with him, we have never detected in him any impatience, fault-finding, captious criticism, carelessness in his work, or disregard for facts or for the conscientious opinion of others. His nature was kindly, and his soul above the petty things that fret and irritate in the daily course of life. He leaves behind a rare record of honorable business, useful service and faithfulness in all things."

"THE SUN - DIAL"

ROBERT JOHN BLACK

"Among the ornaments of lawn and garden, the sun-dial is one of the most interesting. It is interesting, not merely from its novelty—few persons ever have seen one—but from its antiquity as well.

The center of the garden may be the most convenient position in which to place it. In plowing the garden the part on which it rests may be taken up and afterwards replaced. Of course, a location must be selected which is free from shade.

While it numbers only sunny hours, it may recall sunny remembrances of some friend whose skill may have fashioned it, or is in some way connected with it, even though the friend has passed into the 'Enduring Light of the Better Land.'

A devoted friend of Robert Black had made a sun-dial for him.

Robert John Black married in 1855 his cousin, Martha Black (10) of Bremen, Ohio, who died July 5th, 1859.

CHILDREN:

31. John William Black.
32. Samuel Wiley Black.
33. Mary Agnes Black. Born July 24th, 1857, died August 25, 1859.

Robert John Black then married on October 10th, 1861, Margaret McCandlish Alexander, born near Millroy, Pennsylvania, July 14th, 1842, died at Worthington, Ohio, April 23rd, 1923. She was the daughter of Josiah and Phoebe (McCandlish) (473) Alexander, and came to Ohio with her mother, brothers and sisters, in 1849.

Margaret McCandlish Alexander was a great-granddaughter of James Alexander, a soldier of the Revolution. James Alexander was missionary agent with George Washington during the memorable year at Valley Forge. All the Alexanders recorded in this history are eligible to membership in the Sons or Daughters of the American Revolution through his service.

REV. GEORGE WASHINGTON MARTIN, D. D. (44)

Born in Marion township, Hocking county, Ohio, April 27th, 1848. Was educated in the country schools, and began teaching at the age of eighteen, and taught school several terms near Enterprise, Hocking county.

It was while teaching in that region and attending special revival meetings at Antioch church, that he heard the call of God to him in the reading of the Scripture text: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in and sup with him, and he with me." The Spirit seems to have used this familiar Gospel text as the means of calling him to a life of service and devotion.

This purpose then definitely formed and fixed, to "answer the call of God," led him to desire an education, and in 1871 he entered Ohio University, at Athens, where he graduated 1875, receiving B. A. degree. Was principal of schools at Willoughby, Ohio, for one year, and then entered Union Theological Seminary, New York City, from which he received B. D. degree, 1879. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred by Ohio University, about 1905.

In July 1879, he married Matilda Peebles Work, born at Lancaster, Ohio, February, 1848; died at Richfield, Utah, November, 1923. Shortly after their marriage they went as Home Missionaries for the Presbyterian Church, to Manti, San Pete county, Utah, for labor among the Mormons. They served long and well in this field, until his death in March, 1919. Relatives in Ohio can testify to the fact that Mormon missionaries in the east who were acquainted with George Martin spoke of him in a most respectful and kindly way.

WILLIAM M. BLACK (250)

Born in Jackson township, Perry county, Ohio, September 2nd, 1829, farmer; died, August 4th, 1916, at Prairie City, Kansas; buried in Prairie City Cemetery. Married, April 24th, 1851, at Bremen, Ohio, Catherine Stuart, born October 17th, 1834; died, December 7th, 1914; buried beside her husband; daughter of Charles and Christina (Beery) Stuart.

"They began home-making near Rushville, Ohio, and in 1858 came to Kansas. They had for company mother's sister and husband, and their two little daughters. Aunt Mary Jane and Uncle Sam Black. They came by boat, to what is now Kansas City. Bought oxen and a wagon to take their household goods and families to what they thought a desirable locality. They found that, near a little settlement called Prairie City. Afterward absorbed by the village, Baldwin City.

Father bought 160 acres of land and received a deed, signed by President James Buchanan. 1861 to '64 were troublesome times for pioneers and anti-slavery advocates. Raiders came over from Missouri. Border ruffians sacked Lawrence, our county seat, and burned homes on their way south. Our folks hid the furniture in the tall grass. Mother was the last to leave the house, because she wanted to save the household heirlooms, some brought from Ohio, and then she crawled out through the tall grass to hide. She looked up once, and a bullet hit the ground not far away. The ruffians were looking for men, not women. General Major Plumbs and men came through Stars Gap, about a mile away. When the ruffian band saw the U. S. soldiers, they started south, as fast as their horses could carry them. My father was out with the militia for a time.

After finishing country school, we children were sent to Baldwin City, to continue our education. Our parents were Presbyterians, and early took their place in the work of the church. my father, an elder for many years. Your correspondent was sent to the University of Kansas for three years. taught in the public schools, one year of which was in the schools of Bremen, Ohio.

My husband passed away two years after finishing a medical course in The Chicago Homeopathic Medical College. Again father and mother made a home for me and my two young children. My mother once said, that they could not have stayed on the old home farm as long as they did, without the aid of the children and their mother.

We named our home farm "Sherwood," grandmother Black's maiden name."—Written by Hattie (Black) Holloway.
